REPORT FROM ACADEMIC AFFAIRS COMMITTEE: Chair Blackburn recognized Trustee M. Lee Barnes, Chair of the Academic Affairs Committee, for the report.

Trustee Barnes stated that the Academic Affairs Committee met earlier in the day, and heard the following reports:

Faculty Handbook Revisions

Dr. Jacqui Bergman, Vice Provost for Faculty Affairs presented the proposed changes to the Faculty Handbook. The Committee approved the proposed changes.

Trustee Barnes, on behalf of the Academic Affairs Committee, recommended approval of the proposed revisions to the Faculty Handbook as presented. The Committee’s recommendation was unanimously approved.

Supplemental Pay Policy for Distance Education Effective Fall 2019

Dr. Darrell P. Kruger, Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor, provided an update on Supplemental Pay Policy 602.10. The initial intent of the Supplemental Pay Policy many years ago was to incentivize faculty to teach in the distance education program. At that time the predominant form of distance education was for faculty to drive off the mountain and teach face-to-face distance education courses. In the last decade that has changed: 75% of all Appalachian distance education programs are taught online; 25% are the driving off the mountain flavor. Therefore, effective fall 2019 distance education stipends for courses taught online will be reduced by 1% each year for five years going from 5% to 0%. Given that there is a faculty cost associated with drive time for distance education face-to-face courses, course stipends will be paid relative to: (a) the number of face-to-face meetings and (b) distance from Boone. Beginning in fall 2019 face-to-face distance education stipends will be reduced by 0.5% per year over the next five years. This will generate about $250,000 each year. These monies will be reinvested in faculty professional development to grow online education at Appalachian. This will ensure quality online programs and courses which was a strong recommendation of the Distance Education Task Force. The change required to Policy 602.10 requires Board of Trustee approval.

Trustee Barnes, on behalf of the Academic Affairs Committee, recommended approval of the Supplemental Pay Policy for Distance Education as presented. The Committee’s recommendation was unanimously approved.

Glacial-marine Sedimentology and Sedimentary Record of Climate Change

Dr. Ellen Cowan shared her recent research experience as a participant in the International Ocean Discovery Program’s JODIES Resolution to the Amundsen Sea from January 18 to March 20, 2019. Dr. Cowan’s post-expedition research will focus on the nature and occurrence of ice rafted debris through time.

Appalachian State University’s Strategic Plan

Dr. Darrell P. Kruger, Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor, provided a brief update on the next iteration of the University strategic plan. He shared that the next iteration of “The Appalachian Experience: Envisioning a Just and Sustainable Future 2014-2019” will be drafted in the 2019-2020 academic year. Input for the next version of the strategic plan was provided to the University Planning and Priorities Council (UPPC) through more than a dozen listening sessions in the 2018-2019 academic year. The Board of Trustees will be updated as that work continues.

Trustee Barnes indicated that this concluded the report from the Academic Affairs Committee (see Appendix A).

REPORT FROM ATHLETICS COMMITTEE: Chair Blackburn recognized Trustee Kenan Smith, Acting Chair of the Athletics Committee, for the report.

Trustee Smith stated that the Academic Affairs Committee met earlier in the day, and heard the following reports:

Student-Athlete Presentations

The Athletics Committee met on Thursday afternoon, and began with a presentation given by rising sophomore student-athlete, Kynda Bichara, where she gave the Committee insight into her transformational experience as a student-athlete at Appalachian. Kynda discussed the development of the Black Student-Athlete Subcommittee within the Athletics Department, and overviewed mental health and other initiatives the Committee hopes to address in the coming academic year.
Presentation by Director of Athletics

Director of Athletics, Doug Gillin, then presented several updates to the Committee. Mr. Gillin recapped the 2018-19 Academic Year, beginning with the academic success of Appalachian student-athletes, including the 14th consecutive semester Mountaineer student-athletes have achieved at least a 3.0 Grade Point Average. Also, 14 of 18 total Mountaineer sport programs earned perfect scores in the NCAA Academic Progress Rate during the most recent data collection period, which measures retention and eligibility for App State student-athletes. In the community, Mountaineer student-athletes doubled their total hours of community service for the second consecutive year, logging 10,434 total hours in 2018-19. Competitively, four sport programs won conference championships, with App State Athletics posting its best ever finish in the Sun Belt Conference Bubas Cup, which is the annual all sports championship trophy. In fundraising, over $43 million have been raised to-date toward A Mountaineer Impact Initiative’s $60 million goal, including the launch of the A Mountaineer Impact website, where App State supporters can learn all about the comprehensive initiative, designed to impact every Mountaineer student-athlete and sports program – we encourage you all to visit “MountaineerImpact.com” to learn more. In the area of Student-Athlete Well-Being, a strategic reporting line change was made where the Senior Associate Athletics Director for Health and Wellness now oversees the Sports Medicine, Strength and Conditioning, Nutrition, and Sports Psychology areas. Regarding facilities enhancements, major progress was made this year with the new North End Zone facility, which is progressing toward an August 2020 opening; the Appalachian 105 Property is now currently in the design phase; and there were also completed facility projects such as the Wrestling Team Room renovation. The need for first class competitive facilities was discussed, as App State Athletics strives to recruit the best student-athletes possible, providing a world-class student and student-athlete experience, and achieving excellence on and off the fields of play.

To conclude the meeting, Mr. Gillin discussed several highlights of App State Athletics partnerships with the University campus and community. Several efforts this year included:

- Partnership with the Department of Mathematics in the area of sports analytics;
- The Hayes School of Music’s Basketball Pep Band being named the best in the Sun Belt Conference;
- Partnership with the local Sports Commission when hosting the 2019 Southern Conference Wrestling Championship;
- The Office of Sustainability’s “Recycle Mania” event held at a home Basketball game; and
- The Healthy Heart Collaborative in conjunction with Appalachian Regional Healthcare System and the Beaver College of Health Sciences.

Trustee Smith indicated that this concluded the report from the Athletics Committee (see Appendix B).

REPORT FROM AUDIT COMMITTEE: Chair Blackburn recognized Trustee Charles Murray, Chair of the Audit Committee, for the report.
Trustee Murray stated that the Audit Committee met earlier in the day, and heard the following reports:

Terry Edwards’ Retirement

Trustee Murray stated that after 36 years of service to Appalachian in the Office of Internal Audits, Terry Edwards is retiring on June 28. Terry has done his job here with integrity, attention to detail, accuracy and with an attitude of “I’m here to help make us all better.” His professionalism and quiet and unassuming ways have earned him the respect of the entire University and have helped make the Office of Internal Audits be viewed as allies across campus. His long length of service, all of which have been in the same office, has brought a stability, consistency and knowledge base to Internal Audits that will be hard to replace. Terry also handles many of the big financial and compliance audits like Athletics, Gear Up and the Auxiliary audits, making his departure that much more acutely felt.

Audit Activity Charter

There was review and discussion of the updated Internal Audit Activity Charter. This charter defines the purpose, authority, and responsibility of the internal audit activity. It is consistent with the mandatory elements of the Institute of Internal Auditors’ International Professional Practices Framework.

Trustee Murray, on behalf of the Audit Committee, recommended approval of the Audit Activity Charter as presented. The Committee’s recommendation was unanimously approved.

2019 – 2020 Internal Audit Plan

The UNC Board of Governors requires that the Office of Internal Audits at each University develops and implements an annual audit plan based on consideration of risk and potential internal control deficiencies. This plan also must be approved by the Board of Trustees Audit Committee. There was review, discussion, and approval of the 2019-2020 Internal Audit Plan by the Audit Committee.

Trustee Murray, on behalf of the Audit Committee, recommended approval of the 2019 – 2020 Internal Audit Plan as presented. The Committee’s recommendation was unanimously approved.

Internal Audits

- The internal audits of 2018 GEAR UP and Tuition Appeal Process Review were completed. No findings were reported.

- An Internal Controls Review of the HR Personnel Clearing Fund was completed. Recommendations were made to strengthen controls over access to cash in compliance with University policy.
• Follow-Up Reviews monitor management’s implementation of recommendations from previous audits that were performed. Four follow-up reviews were performed for this quarter and the results were summarized and discussed.

• Campus-Wide Reviews were conducted in the areas of educational and technology funds, travel expenditures, p-card expenditures and fund reconciliations. In addition, monthly reviews were conducted regarding the removal of network access for terminated employees. Also, if necessary, follow-up procedures were performed to determine the resolution of previous findings concerning the campus-wide reviews. Recommendations were made regarding following ASU Policy concerning departmental bookkeeping processes and in conjunction with using the p-card. No other significant findings to report.

Trustee Murray indicated that this concluded the report from the Audit Committee (see Appendix C).

REPORT FROM BUSINESS AFFAIRS COMMITTEE: Chair Blackburn stated that Trustee Scott Lampe, Chair of the Business Affairs Committee, was absent and asked him to provide the report for the Business Affairs Committee meeting. Chair Blackburn called on Vice Chancellor for Business Affairs Paul Forte to provide details.

Vice Chancellor Forte stated that the Business Affairs Committee met earlier in the day, and heard the following reports:

Write-off of Uncollectible Accounts

Vice Chancellor Paul Forte presented the annual request to write off uncollectible accounts from the University, New River Light and Power Company, and the University Bookstore. A very thorough process is used to attempt to collect accounts, and every attempt to collect these accounts has been exhausted. Accounts receivable write-offs are an accounting transaction. All debts owed to the University are still valid and all registration, transcript, diploma, and other holds are not removed when an account is written off. The administration is seeking approval to write-off of these account balances.

Chair Blackburn, on behalf of the Business Affairs Committee, recommended approval of the Write-off of Uncollectible Accounts as presented. The Committee’s recommendation was unanimously approved.

Parking & Traffic Manual Updates

Vice Chancellor Paul Forte presented updates to the Parking and Traffic Manual. Per General Statute 116-44.4, Board of Trustees approval is required for changes to the University’s Parking and Transportation Manual. Since there are no rate increases the only changes include dates and minor edits.
Chair Blackburn, on behalf of the Business Affairs Committee, recommended approval of the Parking and Traffic Manual Updates as presented. The Committee’s recommendation was unanimously approved.

Capital Projects

Vice Chancellor Paul Forte presented a request to increase project authorization for App Heights to $6,455,348. During the design phase it was discovered that the scope needs to be expanded to address dehumidification, deteriorated piping replacement, chiller replacement and ductwork.

Mr. Forte presented a request to combine Phase 2 and 3 of the steam line improvement project, $6,914,268 into P3 project. Board of Governors approved Phase 2. By incorporating Phase 2 and Phase 3 of the steam line project into the scope of the P3 project it will reduce disruptions to campus, streamline the delivery process, and eliminate the risk that a third-party contractor may create delays that excuse Rise and Choate from delivering the P3 housing facilities on time.

Vice Chancellor Paul Forte also provided an overview of the status of the State Budget as well as an overview of the main Capital Projects progress on campus.

Chair Blackburn indicated that this concluded the report from the Business Affairs Committee (see Appendix D).

REPORT FROM STUDENT AFFAIRS COMMITTEE: Chair Blackburn recognized Trustee James Barnes, Chair of the Student Affairs Committee, for the report.

Trustee Barnes stated that the Student Affairs Committee met earlier in the day, and heard the following reports:

Student Affairs Extended Orientation Programs

ASCEND is a program for first-time students from historically marginalized underrepresented backgrounds. ASCEND establishes a solid foundation for students to feel a sense of belonging and community, and be empowered to succeed with knowledge, connections and resources. The program was redesigned last year and is facilitated by the Office of Multicultural Student Development.

First Ascent serves as the University’s only wilderness orientation program for incoming first-year students and transfer students. It is facilitated by the Outdoor Programs unit in University Recreation. This opportunity provides students with challenging experiences (backpacking for a week) that are designed to assist them in finding their place in the Appalachian family, utilizing a beautiful wilderness area as the backdrop for this experience.

Trailhead Academy is an extended Orientation program in which participants build a strong sense of community among their peers through elements of team building exercise, meaningful dialogue, and leadership development.
University Housing Project Update

Mr. Matt Dull provided an update on the University Housing Project. He shared images and updates of the parking garage that is near completion and shared the progress of the first two buildings that are scheduled to be completed next summer. He also shared that plans are already underway on the design of Phase 2 of the project, which will begin in February 2020.

Trustee Barnes indicated that this concluded the report from the Student Affairs Committee (see Appendix E).

JOHN M. BLACKBURN, Chair

By:

Dawn Antonucci
Assistant Secretary
Good afternoon — and welcome home on this lovely summer day!

Before I begin my report today, I would like to introduce to you Toussaint Romain, who joined Appalachian as Deputy General Counsel in April, filling the position left vacant by Barbara Krause. Toussaint is a former public defender in Charlotte who has taught at UNC-Charlotte. He is also a community advocate and a civil rights leader who has spoken across the country about his experience as a peacekeeper during the Charlotte protests following the shooting of Keith Lamont Scott in 2016. Please join me in welcoming him. We are glad you are here, Toussaint! I’d also ask Chief Counsel, Paul Meggett to please introduce the other attorneys he has recently hired in the Office of General Counsel.

In a few minutes, you will hear reports from today’s productive committee meetings. On behalf of the entire Appalachian Community, I would like to thank each of you for the work you do on behalf of our university every day.

With summer in full swing, we are busily preparing for the fall semester.

The Sanford Hall renovation is about to begin — in fact, you may notice furniture and equipment being moved out of the building even as we speak. If you cross Sanford Mall while on campus — or even look out the window here, you will see the work commencing on this vital academic building.

Phase one of the residence halls construction is well underway. Foundations are being poured, and in the next month, we will see the steel skeletons begin to take shape.

For those of you who do not check the web cam every day (like I do), the Stadium End Zone project is also underway and university staff are working diligently to ensure as seamless an experience as possible for the students who will be living among the residence hall construction as well as the many Mountaineer football fans, who are looking forward to another exciting season- and another conference championship — no pressure, Doug!

One key aspect of legislation that has the potential to have an impact on football season is North Carolina House Bill 389, which allows for controlled consumption of beer and wine in athletics venues at UNC System schools. Research on universities that sell beer and wine at athletics facilities shows significant decreases in alcohol-related arrests and incidents after implementation. As you know, Board of Trustees approval would be required should this option become available to UNC System schools, and I appreciate your thorough review of the options available to Appalachian.

Appalachian excels at completing construction projects on time and on budget. The opening the Levine Hall of Health Sciences last year serves as a showcase example of our success in this area — and I will remind you once again, it is the largest academic building ever to be built on our campus. It is not an easy feat to grow our infrastructure quickly and efficiently, but it is critically important to do so in order to empower the tremendous human potential on our campus. Vice Chancellor Forte's team, in particular, continues to find more innovative ways to do this and we all appreciate their work.

I hope you are regularly visiting the Appalachian’s Future website and following along as we continue to build our infrastructure and empower human potential.

This is the time of year when we are hosting new students for orientation, and we are giving tours to prospective students, nearly every day. Certainly, meeting current students, faculty and staff gives them a sense of the welcoming environment here that will help them succeed as students and as graduates. Of course, we can all attest to the academic benefits provided by our stunningly beautiful location as well. It is nice, however, when we receive external validation of what we already know to be true. You have likely seen that Peterson’s — the world’s leading educational services company — named Appalachian in its “The 20 Best Colleges for Outdoor Enthusiasts” list, published May 1. The university placed 13th out of the 20 recognized schools nationwide, which were ranked based on the academic and recreational opportunities they provide.

We have both anecdotal and empirical evidence that our location, academic offerings and community are deciding factors that make Appalachian the university of choice for our slowly yet steadily growing – and increasingly diverse – student population. While we won’t have firm numbers until the UNC System census date of September 3rd, I am pleased to report a few promising preliminary numbers:

We have confirmed nearly 10% more rural students than last year;
The number of first-generation college students is up almost 13% over last year; and
The number of traditionally underrepresented students is up more than 18%.

Appalachian is not a quiet campus in the summer! We are looking forward to the opening of the 35th season of An Appalachian Summer Festival next week, the 8th annual Appalachian Energy Summit in July, and we have more than 6,000 elementary, middle and high school students attending academic and athletic camps during the summer months. More than 7,000 students are enrolled in one of our two Summer Sessions, taught by more than 500 faculty, and our award-winning police academy is training a new class of cadets.

Many of Appalachian’s faculty are actively engaging in research and scholarship at home and across the globe. One example, which has garnered media attention throughout the world is the work of Geography Professor Dr. Baker Perry, who, along with Research Assistant Professor of Geography Anton Seimon, scaled Mount Everest to conduct climate research as part of a National Geographic expedition. If you caught the ABC News, Weather Channel or Gizmodo interviews with Dr. Perry this week and last week, you may have heard him talk about how he was on the team that braved record crowding, temperatures of nearly negative 30 degrees Celsius and icing which compromised his oxygen intake, to install the two highest operating automated weather stations in the world. These weather stations are providing scientists an unprecedented level of weather data that will improve weather forecasting across the globe... AND, if you are curious about what the temperature is on Mount Everest right now, thanks to Dr. Perry, you can find out.

It’s hard to tell who is who, but in this photo, Dr. Perry – who you may know is also a direct descendent of D.D. Dougherty – is the tall one in this photo, in the center. I understand he is conducting additional media interviews as I speak, but you can read all about his work and the work of Dr. Seimon, who was on the team that recorded what we believe to be elevation records for at least two insect species. Spoiler alert- Dr. Perry MAY have solved a critical technical crisis at more than 27,000 feet with a shovel and a roll of duct tape. Read it for yourself at Today.appstate.edu!

Closer to home, we recently celebrated the graduating fifth grade class of the Appalachian State University Academy at Middle Fork. As I recently shared in my weekly newsletter to campus, students at the Academy at Middle Fork are making tremendous strides. Early assessments show greater than an 80% increase in this class from their fourth-grade reading scores. This momentum is critically important as this class enters middle school, and the enthusiasm for their progress was evident when all 48 graduating fifth grade students were greeted with cheers and congratulations from a room packed with their parents, families and educators. We have plans to stay connected with these students, and I look forward to seeing them cross the stage again – this time in Boone – in 2030 if not sooner.

The Academy’s accomplishments and Appalachian’s involvement in the National Geographic expedition have been celebrated in the media. Coverage of the work of Appalachian’s faculty is important for them as well as for our students. These successes are also compelling reminders that Appalachian exists on a continuum – preparing, engaging and educating students for a lifetime as Mountaineers.

I had the occasion to share many of Appalachian’s success stories – and make the case for more support for our university – while in Raleigh last week meeting with our Board of Visitors. I took the opportunity to also share our university priorities with more than a dozen legislators, who are currently making important funding decisions. First and foremost among these priorities is a change in the funding model to use a credit completion formula to allocate funding and more equitably represent Appalachian among our peers in the UNC System.

Joining me in this advocacy work is our chief advocate and liaison to the Board of Governors, Phil Byers. Governor Byers had to leave to attend the groundbreaking of the North Carolina School of Science and Math in Morganton, but in his absence please allow me to take this moment to say a public thank-you to him for your tireless work in support of Appalachian.

Before I close my remarks, I would ask you save Thursday, September 5th on your calendars for our annual Founders’ Day celebration. This year we will celebrate Appalachian’s 120th year, and begin a new tradition of ringing the Founders Bell on September 5th, the opening day of classes in 1899. You can see in this photo we are creating a home for the Founders Bell, and a place for our students, faculty and staff to create and foster memories and traditions that will last for years to come.

On behalf of the entire institution, I would also like to thank you, our trustees, for the advocacy work each of you does on behalf of our faculty, staff and students. You make tremendous differences for – and along with – our faculty, staff and students. Together, our collective commitment to Appalachian’s standing as the premier, public undergraduate institution in the state begins before our students receive their degrees and continues long afterward. Thank you.

Mr. Chairman, this concludes my remarks.

Supplemental Pay Policy for Distance Education Effective Fall 2019

Dr. Darrell P. Kruger, Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor, provided an update on Supplemental Pay Policy 602.10. The initial intent of the Supplemental Pay Policy many years ago was to incentivize faculty to teach in the distance education program. At that time the predominant form of distance education was for faculty to drive off the mountain and teach face-to-face distance education courses. In the last decade that has changed: 75% of all Appalachian distance education programs are taught online; 25% are the driving off the mountain flavor. Therefore, effective fall 2019 distance education stipends for courses taught online will be reduced by 1% each year for five years going from 5% to 0%. Given that there is a faculty cost associated with drive time for distance education face-to-face courses, course stipends will be paid relative to: (a) the number of face-to-face meetings and (b) distance from Boone. Beginning in fall 2019 face-to-face distance education stipends will be reduced by 0.5% per year over the next five years. This will generate about $250,000 each year. These monies will be reinvested in faculty professional development to grow online education at Appalachian. This will ensure quality online programs and courses which was a strong recommendation of the Distance Education Task Force. The change required to Policy 602.10 requires Board of Trustee approval. Reference Exhibits A-3, 4 & 5 in your meeting materials.

Chairperson Barnes requested a motion to accept the supplemental pay policy change as presented in Exhibits A-3, 4, & 5 and to recommend it to the full Board for approval. A motion was made by Charles Murray to accept the supplemental pay policy change and to recommend it to the full Board for approval. The motion was seconded by Donald Beaver. The motion was approved unanimously.

DR. ELLEN COWAN, COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES, DEPARTMENT OF GEOLOGICAL AND ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCES: GLACIAL-MARINE SEDIMENTOLOGY AND SEDIMENTARY RECORD OF CLIMATE CHANGE

Dr. Ellen Cowan shared her recent research experience as a participant in the International Ocean Discovery Program’s JODIES Resolution to the Amundsen Sea from January 18 to March 20, 2019. Expedition 379 collected the first long drill cores from the sea floor to better understand the history of the West Antarctic Ice Sheet. This marine ice sheet is vulnerable to the warming ocean and is in the sector of Antarctica with the most rapid ice loss today. Icebergs presented challenges for the ship during drilling but they also leave a record via debris of ice sheet collapse on the sea floor. Cowan’s post-expedition research will focus on the nature and occurrence of ice rafted debris through time. The long drill cores provided samples of sea floor deposits laid down 3 to 4 million years ago when the climate was warmer. Complete loss of the West Antarctic Ice Sheet is expected to cause a rise in global sea level of up to 4 meters.

APPALACHIAN STATE UNIVERSITY’S STRATEGIC PLAN

Dr. Darrell P. Kruger, Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor, provided a brief update on the next iteration of the University strategic plan. He shared that the next iteration of “The Appalachian Experience: Envisioning a Just and Sustainable Future 2014-2019” will be drafted in the 2019-2020 academic year. Input for the next version of the strategic plan was provided to the University Planning and Priorities Council (UPPC) through more than a dozen listening sessions in the 2018-2019 academic year. The Board of Trustees will be updated as that work continues.
Chairperson Barnes requested a motion, if no further business, to adjourn.

A motion was made by Charles Murray and seconded by Donald Beaver to adjourn. The motion was approved unanimously.

ADJOURNMENT: There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

Section 8.14 The Center for Academic Excellence

The Center for Academic Excellence (CAE) is the university's lead teaching and learning resource for faculty (tenured, tenure-track, non-tenure-track, and administrative faculty) in all career stages. The CAE offers a broad range of programs, resources, and services dedicated to growing excellence in teaching and learning and supporting faculty and student success. Supplemental Pay
Policy 602.10

1 Introduction

The purpose of this policy is to provide uniform and consistent standards for approving and providing supplemental assignments and compensation to university employees.

2 Scope

This policy applies to supplemental compensation paid to Appalachian State University faculty and staff through the University Payroll Office. This policy is not intended to modify any of the existing policies or procedures governing the administration of University salaries or payments for external consulting (see Policy on External Professional Activities for Pay).

3 Definitions

3.1 Contract Period

For nine-month faculty, the contract period is generally from August 15 through May 15. Otherwise, the specific dates of the contract period are based on the employee's employment contract.

3.2 Outside-the-contract Period

For nine-month faculty, this period is generally from May 16 through August 14. Otherwise, the specific dates of the time outside-the-contract period are based on the employee's employment contract.

3.3 Base Salary

The annual permanent salary of the employee as it appears in the employment contract of the employee or subsequent letters of notice of salary increase/decrease. The base salary includes any supplemental administrative stipends extending for one year or more, but does not include temporary payments for a period of less than one year.

3.4 9-Month Equivalent Salary

For faculty, this is the portion of the base salary less any continuing supplemental administrative stipends built into the base salary. For 12-month EHRA Non-Faculty employees, the 9-month equivalent salary is calculated as 9/12th of the base salary. For 10-month and 11-month EHRA Non-Faculty employees, the ratio is 9/10th and 9/11th, respectively, of the base salary.

3.5 Supplemental Compensation

For faculty, all extra compensation paid through University Payroll beyond the 9-month equivalent salary, regardless of funding source. For EHRA Non-Faculty employees, this includes all extra compensation paid through University Payroll beyond the base salary, regardless of funding source. This includes, but is not limited to, activities such as conducting seminars, workshops, and training; teaching distance education courses; dual employment payments from other state agencies; internal grant stipends; administrative stipends; external grant and contract stipends and teaching summer courses.
4 Policy and Procedure Statements

4.1 General Policy

4.1.1 For a full-time member of the faculty or EHRA Non-Faculty staff, the salary approved by the Chancellor, Board of Trustees, or Board of Governors is the base salary to be paid during the contract period. No additional compensation may be paid for University duties that are generally related to the position to which the individual is appointed during the contract period. No Tier I Senior Academic and Administrative Officer (see UNC Policy Manual Section 300.1.1, I-A) may be paid in addition to his or her approved annual compensation for any services rendered to any institution-related foundation, endowment, or other entity that was established by officers of the University, that is controlled by the University, or that is tax exempt based on being a support organization for the University.

4.1.2 With appropriate approvals, full-time members of the faculty or EHRA Non-Faculty staff may receive additional compensation for extra duties, as long as these extra services do not cause a conflict of commitment with the primary employment position of the employee. A maximum commitment of time of 120% is allowed and supplemental compensation from all sources may total no more than 20% of the 9-month equivalent salary during the contract period. For EHRA Non-Faculty staff and faculty, all supplemental compensation received outside-the-contract period may total no more than 38.4% of the 9-month equivalent salary.

4.2 Specific Policies

4.2.1 Administrative Stipends for Faculty

Administrative stipends for faculty that are included as part of the base salary will count as part of the limited supplemental compensation associated with the outside-the-contract period specified in the General Policy.

4.2.2 Dual Employment

Dual employment occurs when a University employee agrees to perform services for another state agency on a part-time or contractual basis. Approval must be obtained from the supervisor of the primary employment position before the service is provided in order to ascertain whether the obligation will interfere with the job duties and commitments of the primary position. If approved, all payments to the employee must be sent (along with Form CP-30) from the borrowing agency to the University and paid through the University Payroll. Payments of this type are counted as part of supplemental compensation.

4.2.3 Overload Instruction

In general, faculty should not be paid extra for teaching credit courses in addition to their normal course load. Instead, other arrangements may be made, such as a corresponding course reduction in the following semester. With approval of the chair and dean, overload pay may be approved for faculty that agree to teach additional credit courses beyond the departmental standard load if it does not cause a conflict of commitment with the other duties of the faculty member. There is a one course per semester limit on this type of payment and the stipend will be limited to the standard contract amount offered to part-time faculty based on a pay schedule maintained by the Office of Academic Affairs.

4.2.4 Distance Education Instruction

Supplemental compensation for teaching distance education courses for credit is allowable due to the additional time commitment associated with instructing students at a remote location and not for duties that a faculty member would typically provide for courses offered on campus. Stipends may be provided for qualifying courses according to a schedule maintained by the Office of Academic Affairs. This additional compensation will not be provided for distance education courses when there are equivalent campus courses that inherently involve travel for which no additional compensation is awarded to faculty. Examples of courses in which travel is required, but no supplemental compensation is offered include internships, student teaching, study abroad or other field-based courses. This policy does not apply to course offerings of the Boone campus, but specifically to offerings coordinated by the distance education area within the Division of Educational Outreach and Summer Programs.

4.2.5 Summer Instruction

Faculty will be contracted according to a rate schedule maintained by the Office of Academic Affairs. Excluding internship supervision, revenue-generated courses, or other atypical course offerings, faculty will be compensated at no less than the minimum rate applied to part-time faculty during the academic year.

4.2.6 Teaching Continuing Education Programs

Faculty may be approved by their chair and dean for supplemental compensation for teaching non-credit programs offered through the Division of Educational Outreach and Summer Programs or some other University unit as long as such work does not cause a conflict of commitment with their regular job duties. Compensation rates are generally dependent on generation of program revenue. For faculty and EHRA Non-Faculty employees, compensation limits from the General Policy will apply.

4.2.7 Teaching by SHRA FLSA Exempt or EHRA Non-Faculty Staff

4.2.7.1 EHRA Non-Faculty and SHRA FLSA Exempt employees, whose duties are tied to the normal workweek schedule of the University, may be allowed, subject to advance approval by the appropriate supervisor, to take on a University teaching responsibility for supplemental compensation. Supplemental compensation for instruction is not permitted for SHRA FLSA Non-Exempt employees subject to overtime. A staff member’s primary employment responsibilities take priority over any additional part-time teaching assignments. Generally, this teaching responsibility must be carried out entirely during times other than the normal working hours established for the full-time employment responsibility.

4.2.7.2 In extraordinary circumstances, when the teaching responsibility must take place during the course of the employee's normal working hours, such exceptions must be approved in advance by the appropriate division vice chancellor. If the arrangement is approved, an alternate work schedule must be approved by the division vice chancellor. The division vice chancellor must review and recertify such arrangements annually, and, if necessary, coordinate for continued concurrence with the appropriate supervisor. Otherwise, the employee may not receive supplemental pay for the teaching assignment. For EHRA Non-Faculty employees, compensation limits from the General Policy will apply.

4.2.8 Compensation for Non-teaching Activities by SHRA or EHRA Non-Faculty Staff

4.2.8.1 For EHRA Non-Faculty and SHRA staff, additional activities for supplemental pay may be permitted, with the supervisor’s approval, but must not interfere with the staff member's normal duties, must be outside the scope of the employee’s normal job responsibilities, and must be carried out during times other than the normal working hours established for the full-time employment responsibility of that staff member.

4.2.8.2 In extraordinary circumstances, when the additional activities for pay must take place during the course of the employee's normal working hours, such exceptions must be approved in advance by the appropriate division vice chancellor. If the arrangement is approved, an alternate work schedule must be approved by the division vice chancellor. The division vice chancellor must review and recertify such arrangements annually, and, if necessary, coordinate for continued concurrence with the appropriate supervisor. Otherwise, the employee may not receive supplemental pay for the non-teaching activity. For EHRA Non-Faculty employees, compensation limits from the General Policy will apply.
4.2.8.3 SHRA employees subject to the overtime provisions of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) may only receive supplemental compensation under this policy for activities determined to meet criteria for occasional or sporadic activities under the FLSA. All other hours worked for the university during any workweek must be combined for the purpose of determining overtime eligibility. All payments of overtime must be made in accordance with applicable overtime laws and regulations and must be based upon the appropriate rate(s) of pay for work performed.

4.2.9 Faculty Compensation from External and Internal Grants

4.2.9.1 For 9-month faculty, supplemental compensation may be earned outside-the-contract period for University-sponsored research that is externally funded by a governmental agency as approved by the department chair, dean, and the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs. The maximum payment is 38.4% of the base salary or 120% of time, unless otherwise limited by the sponsor. In the case of a federal grant or contract, the rate of pay for supplemental compensation outside-the-contract period must be the same as the base rate of pay for the contract assignment. This policy is intended to comply with applicable federal and state restrictions on level of effort. Federal restrictions permit up to 33.3% outside-the-contract period and no more than 100% of total compensated effort during the contract period.

4.2.9.2 Government sponsors usually do not permit compensation beyond the base rate of pay during the contract period. As a general rule, faculty members (9 and 12 months) involved in government-funded research during the contract period should have their other assigned responsibilities reduced through a "reassigned time" arrangement. For non-government sponsors, additional compensation can be paid during the contract period if permitted by the sponsor and approved by the chair and dean. The maximum supplemental compensation allowed during the contract period is 20% of the 9-month equivalent salary.

4.2.9.3 For internal grants, the maximum supplemental compensation allowed during the contract period is 20% of the 9-month equivalent salary. Outside-the-contract period, the maximum supplemental compensation allowed is 38.4% of the 9-month equivalent salary. Please note the General Policy may limit compensation further for external and internal grants due to other forms of additional compensation received by the faculty member.

4.3 Procedures for Payment of Supplemental Compensation

4.3.1 Timing of Requests

Proposals for activities involving payment of supplemental compensation must be approved by the chair or immediate supervisor of the employee in advance of initiation of the work. As proposals are reviewed and approved, an individual’s total time commitments on institutional as well as external professional activities (e.g., outside consulting) will be considered. The chair or immediate supervisor is responsible for ensuring time and compensation limits specified in the General Policy are enforced.

4.3.2 Duration

No work assignment that results in supplemental compensation may exceed one year; provided, however, that any such additional work assignment may be extended or renewed on a case-by-case basis. Requests for payments must specify the time period for which the person is receiving compensation and the time period must be wholly contained within a contract period or outside a contract period.

4.3.3 Approvals

4.3.3.1 If the employee receiving supplemental compensation is in a different department/unit from the requestor of the work or assignment, the department chair/supervisor of the employee should be consulted for approval in order to consider such issues as work-load management and adherence to the General Policy concerning limits on time and compensation. Requests for payments of supplemental compensation must be approved by the department chair/supervisor and the dean/unit head of the employee as well as the appropriate supervisors from whom the payments are requested.

4.3.3.2 All proposals for supplemental pay to SHRA employees to perform work outside their normal duties must be documented and submitted for review by the Office of Human Resources for compliance reasons prior to the commencement of the work.

4.3.4 Method of Payment and Deductions

Payment of supplemental compensation will be processed as additional pay to employees (and not as payments to independent contractors) through University Payroll and will have federal/state taxes and other appropriate deductions withheld. Payments will be identified as supplemental compensation above the amount paid as the base salary.

This policy applies to supplemental compensation paid to Appalachian State University faculty and staff through the University Payroll Office. This policy is not intended to modify any of the existing policies or procedures governing the administration of University salaries or payments for external consulting (see Policy on External Professional Activities for Pay).

3. Definitions

For the purposes of this policy, the following definitions apply:

3.1 Contract Period:

For nine-month faculty, the contract period is generally from August 15 through May 15. Otherwise, the specific dates of the contract period in any one case are based on the faculty member’s employment contract.

3.2 Outside-the-contract Period:

For nine-month faculty this period is generally from May 16 through August 14. Otherwise, the specific dates of the time outside-the-contract period in any one case are based on the faculty member’s employment contract.

3.4 9-Month Equivalent Salary:
For faculty, this is the portion of the base salary less any continuing supplemental administrative stipends built into the base salary. For 12-month EPEHRA Non-Faculty employees, the 9-month equivalent salary is calculated as $\frac{9}{12}$ $\times$ $\frac{9}{11}$th of the base salary. 4 Policy and Procedure Statements

III. General Policy

4.1 General Policy

4.1.1 For a full-time member of the faculty or EPAEHRA Non-Faculty staff, the salary approved by the Chancellor, Board of Trustees, or Board of Governors is the base salary to be paid during the contract period. No additional compensation may be paid for University duties that are generally related to the position to which the individual is appointed during the Contract Period. No Tier I Senior Academic and Administrative Officer (see UNC Policy Manual Section 300.1.1, I-A) may be paid in addition to his or her approved annual compensation for any services rendered to any institution-related foundation, endowment, or other entity that was established by officers of the University, that is controlled by the University, or that is tax exempt based on being a support organization for the University, may be paid, in addition to his or her salary, for any services rendered to any institution-related foundation, endowment, or other entity that (a) was established by officers of the University, (b) is controlled by the University, or (c) is tax exempt based on being a support organization for the University.

4.1.2 With appropriate approvals, full-time members of the faculty or EPA staff EHRA Non-Faculty staff may receive additional compensation for extra duties, as long as these extra services do not cause a conflict of commitment with the primary employment position of the employee. A maximum commitment of time of 120% is allowed and supplemental compensation from all sources may total no more than 20% of the 9-month equivalent salary during the contract period. For EPA staff EHRA Non-Faculty staff and faculty, all supplemental compensation received outside-the-contract period may total no more than 38.4% of the 9-month equivalent salary.

4.2 IV. Specific Policies

4.2.1 A. Administrative Stipends for Faculty

Administrative stipends for faculty and EPA staff that are included as part of the base salary will count as part of the limited supplemental compensation associated with the outside-the-contract period specified in the General Policy.

4.2.2 B. Dual Employment

Dual employment occurs when a University employee agrees to perform services for another state agency on a part-time or contractual basis. Approval must be obtained from the supervisor of the primary employment position before the service is provided in order to ascertain whether the obligation will interfere with the job duties and commitments of the primary position. If approved, all payments to the employee must be sent (along with Form CP-30) from the borrowing agency to the University and paid through the University Payroll. Payments of this type are counted as part of supplemental compensation.

4.2.3 C. Overload Instruction

In general, faculty should not be paid extra for teaching credit courses in addition to their normal course load. Instead, other arrangements may be made, such as a corresponding course reduction in the following semester. With approval of the chair and dean, overload pay may be approved for faculty that agree to teach additional credit courses beyond the departmental standard load if it does not cause a conflict of commitment with the other duties of the faculty member. There is a one course per semester limit on this type of payment and the stipend will be limited to the standard contract amount offered to part-time faculty based on a pay schedule maintained by the Office of Academic Affairs. ### 4.2.4 D. Distance Education Instruction

Supplemental compensation for teaching distance education courses for credit is limited to additional travel-related duties and allowable due to the time additional time commitment associated with instructing students at a remote location and not for duties that a faculty member would typically provide for courses offered on campus. Stipends may be provided for qualifying courses according to a schedule maintained by the Office of Academic Affairs. This additional compensation applies to both in-lead and overload courses, but will not be provided for distance education courses when there are equivalent campus courses that inherently involve travel for which no additional compensation is awarded to faculty. Examples of courses in which travel is required, but no supplemental compensation is offered include internships, student teaching, study abroad or other field-based courses. This policy does not apply to online courses offered in course offerings on the Boerne campus. Additional compensation applies for courses taught on an overload basis as per the guidelines for overload instruction of the Boone campus, but specifically to offerings coordinated by the distance education area within the Division of Educational Outreach and Summer Programs.

For courses that are taught on-line with minimal face-to-face interaction, the compensation will be 5% of the faculty member's 9-month equivalent salary. For the purpose of this policy, a course will be considered on-line if the face-to-face interaction within the course consists of no more than 10% of the contact time normally associated with the course if it was delivered in a face-to-face manner. This category excludes courses that are delivered through synchronous electronic delivery methods, such as NCH.

For all other distance education courses that qualify for compensation, the compensation offered per-course is a specified percentage of the faculty member's 9-month equivalent salary based on the distance of the remote location from Boerne as outlined in the table below.

4.2.5 E. Summer Instruction

Faculty will be contracted at a rate of 2.2/3% of their 9-month equivalent salary per credit hour of instruction according to a rate schedule maintained by the Office of Academic Affairs. Excluding internship supervision, revenue-generated courses, or other non-typical course offerings, faculty will be compensated at no less than the minimum rate applied to part-time faculty during the academic year. For distance education courses taught in the summer, additional compensation associated with travel-related duties and time commitment applies as per the guidelines specified in the Distance Education Instruction section.
4.2.6 Teaching Continuing Education Programs

Faculty may be approved by their chair and dean for supplemental compensation for teaching non-credit programs offered through the Division of Continuing Education/Educational Outreach and Summer Programs or some other University unit as long as such work does not cause a conflict of commitment with their regular job duties. Compensation rates are generally dependent on generation of program revenue. For faculty and EPAEHRA Non-Faculty employees, compensation limits from the General Policy will apply.

4.2.7 Teaching by SPASHRA FLSA Exempt or EPA-Staff EHRA Non-Faculty Staff

4.2.7.1 Non-teaching staff, both EPAEHRA Non-Faculty and SPASHRA FLSA Exempt employees, whose duties are tied to the normal workweek schedule of the University, may be allowed, subject to advance approval by the appropriate supervisor, to take on a University teaching responsibility for supplemental compensation. Supplemental compensation for instruction is not permitted for SHRA FLSA Non-Exempt employees subject to overtime. A staff member’s primary employment responsibilities take priority over any additional part-time teaching assignments. Generally, this teaching responsibility must be entirely carried out entirely during times other than the normal working hours established for the full-time employment responsibility.

4.2.7.2 However, in extraordinary circumstances, when the teaching responsibility must take place during the course of the employee’s normal working hours, such exceptions must be approved in advance by the appropriate division vice chancellor. If the arrangement is approved, an alternate work schedule must be approved by the division vice chancellor and forwarded with the appropriate assignment documentation for inclusion in the employee’s official personnel record (EPA to Division Vice Chancellor, SPA to Human Resources). The division vice chancellor must review and recertify such arrangements annually, and, if necessary, coordinate for continued concurrence with the appropriate supervisor. Otherwise, the employee may not receive supplemental pay for the teaching assignment. For EPAEHRA Non-Faculty, compensation limits from the General Policy will apply.

4.2.8 Compensation for Non-teaching Activities by SPASHRA or EPA-Staff EHRA Non-Faculty Staff

4.2.8.1 For non-teaching EPAEHRA Non-Faculty and SPASHRA staff, additional activities for supplemental pay may be permitted, with the supervisor’s approval, but must not interfere with the staff member’s normal duties, must be outside the scope of the employee’s normal job responsibilities, and must be carried out during times other than the normal working hours established for the full-time employment responsibility of that staff member.

4.2.8.2 However, in extraordinary circumstances, when the additional activities for pay must take place during the course of the employee’s normal working hours, such exceptions must be approved in advance by the appropriate division vice chancellor. If the arrangement is approved, an alternate work schedule must be approved by the division vice chancellor and forwarded with the appropriate assignment documentation for inclusion in the employee’s official personnel record (EPA to Division Vice Chancellor, SPA to Human Resources). The division vice chancellor must review and recertify such arrangements annually, and, if necessary, coordinate for continued concurrence with the appropriate supervisor. Otherwise, the employee may not receive supplemental pay for the non-teaching activity. For EHRA Non-Faculty employees, compensation limits from the General Policy will apply.

4.2.8.3 For EPA employees, compensation limits from the General Policy will apply. For those SPA employees exempt from the overtime provisions, a revised monthly salary or a lump sum payment must be agreed upon. SPASHRA employees subject to the overtime provisions subject to the overtime provisions of the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) may only receive supplemental compensation under this policy for activities determined to meet criteria for occasional or sporadic activities under the FLSA. All other hours worked for the university during any workweek must be paid on the basis of the-combined for the purpose of determining overtime eligibility number of hours worked during a workweek. All payments of overtime must be made. Such payment must be in accordance with the minimum wage regulations and any applicable overtime laws and regulations provisions and must be based upon the appropriate rate(s) of pay for the work being done performed.

4.2.9 I. Faculty Compensation from External and Internal Grants

4.2.9.1 For 9-month faculty, supplemental compensation may be earned outside-the-contract period for University-sponsored research that is externally funded by a governmental agency as approved by the department chair, dean, and the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs. The maximum payment is 38.4% of the base salary or 120% of time, unless otherwise limited by the sponsor. In the case of a federal grant or contract, the rate of pay for supplemental compensation outside-the-contract period must be the same as the base rate of pay for the contract assignment. This policy is intended to comply with applicable federal and state restrictions on level of effort. Federal restrictions permit up to 33.3% outside-the-contract period and no more than 100% of total compensated effort during the contract period.

4.2.9.2 Government sponsors usually do not permit compensation beyond the base rate of pay during the contract period. As a general rule, faculty members (9 and 12 months) involved in government-funded research during the contract period should have their other assigned responsibilities reduced through a "released-reassigned time" arrangement. For non-government sponsors, additional compensation can be paid during the contract period if permitted by the sponsor and approved by the chair and dean. The maximum supplemental compensation allowed during the contract period is 20% of the 9-month equivalent salary.

4.2.9.3 For internal grants, the maximum supplemental compensation allowed during the contract period is 20% of the 9-month equivalent salary. Outside-the-contract period, the maximum supplemental compensation allowed is 38.4% of the 9-month equivalent salary. Please note the General Policy may limit compensation further for external and internal grants due to other forms of additional compensation received by the employee/faculty member.

4.3 V. Procedures for Payment of Supplemental Compensation

4.3.1 A. Timing of Requests

Proposals for activities involving payment of supplemental compensation must be approved by the chair or immediate supervisor of the employee in advance of initiation of the work. As proposals are reviewed and approved, an individual's total time commitments on institutional as well as external professional activities (e.g., outside consulting) will be considered. The chair or immediate supervisor is responsible for ensuring time and compensation limits specified in the General Policy are enforced.

4.3.2 B. Duration

No work assignment that results in supplemental compensation may exceed one year; provided, however, that any such additional work assignment may be extended or renewed on a case-by-case basis. Requests for payments must specify the time period for which the person is receiving compensation and the time period must be wholly contained within a contract period or outside a contract period.
4.3.3 C. Approvals

4.3.3.1 If the employee receiving supplemental compensation is in a different department/unit from the requestor of the work or assignment, the department chair/ supervisor of the employee should be consulted for approval in order to consider such issues as work-load management and adherence to the General Policy concerning limits on time and compensation. Requests for payments of supplemental compensation must be approved by the department chair/supervisor and the dean/unit head of the employee as well as the appropriate supervisors from whom the payments are requested.

4.3.3.2 All proposals for supplemental pay to SPASHRA employees to perform work outside their normal duties, must be documented and submitted for review. Documentation outlining the work activity, all documentation must be reviewed by the Office of Human Resources for compliance reasons prior to the commencement of paid activities the work, and such documentation shall be retained in the employee's personnel files.

4.3.4 D. Method of Payment and Deductions

II Distance Education Instruction

For qualifying in-load courses, compensation may be provided at a rate outlined in the appropriate chart below. Percentages are calculated based on the faculty member’s 9-month equivalent salary. If a course is an overload or contracted outside the normal contract period of the faculty member, the stipend is paid in addition to the appropriate overload or summer compensation. On-line courses which are part of a distance education program qualify for a stipend, but courses offered on-line to students from the main campus do not qualify. Hybrid and face-to-face courses must be taught at a site that is at least 30 miles from the Boone campus or the faculty member’s assigned duty station to qualify for a stipend. Other courses excluded from the policy include distance education offerings when there are equivalent campus courses for which travel is an inherent part of instructing the course. Examples may include internships, student teaching, study abroad or other field-based courses.

"As we begin the business portion of the meeting, I would like to remind everyone of the Committee's expectations for conduct at our meetings. We ask that those attending today remain respectful of fellow attendees and the Committee. APPROVAL OF MINUTES: Chair Barnes stated the March 28, 2019 Student Affairs Committee minutes were provided as an attachment in BoardEffect. A motion was made, seconded and approved to accept the minutes.

STUDENT AFFAIRS EXTENDED ORIENTATION PROGRAMS: Chair Barnes introduced Mr. J.J. Brown, Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, who introduced the first agenda item, Extended Orientation programs. These programs help prepare and connect students prior to classes beginning. There are over 300 participants in these programs. Mr. Brown then turned the portion of the meeting over to student presenters who shared about specific programs.

The first program highlighted was ASCEND presented by Ms. Kyndavee Bichara and Mr. Kendal Rankin. ASCEND is a supplemental orientation tailored for first time students from historically marginalized underrepresented backgrounds. ASCEND establishes a foundation for students to feel a sense of belonging and community, and be empowered to succeed with knowledge, connections and resources. Students are connected with mentors who follow up with students throughout the year. This program is facilitated by the Office of Multicultural Student Development and currently has 75 students enrolled in the program.

Ms. Becca Wood and Mr. Aidan Malone then presented on First Ascent and shared their own experiences with the program. First Ascent serves as the University’s only wilderness orientation program for incoming first-year and transfer students. First Ascent provides successful inclusive experiences that promote growth and development. This program is facilitated by Outdoor Programs and provides students with challenging experiences utilizing the wilderness as a backdrop.

Ms. Kaitlin Burg and Ms. Ruth Mazza shared with the group about the Trailhead Academy. Trailhead is an extended Orientation program in which students build a strong sense of community among their peers. The program introduces students to understanding campus culture, transitioning to college and traditions and history of Appalachian State. Trailhead Academy also helps students build a strong sense of belonging and community building.

Chair Barnes thanked the students for presenting on these Extended Orientation programs and sharing their experiences.

UNIVERSITY HOUSING PROJECT UPDATE: Chair Barnes then introduced Mr. Matt Dull, Assistance Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, to update on the University Housing Project.

Mr. Dull shared images and updates of the parking garage and shared progress of the first two buildings scheduled to be completed next summer. He stated Phase 1 includes the parking garage and buildings 100 and 200. The parking garage is on schedule and budget for completion by August. Planning for Phase 2 is underway and is on schedule to begin construction in February 2020.

Mr. Dull added there is a weekly podcast to stay up to date on the project.

Chair Barnes thanked Mr. Dull for the updates, and thanked him for all the work he has done on this initiative.

ADJOURNMENT: There being no further business to come before the Committee, a motion was made, seconded and approved to adjourn the meeting.

Respectfully submitted,
